About Us

SANGAT is a non-governmental and not-profit organization striving to create sustainable community development projects by addressing the major themes of good governance, political education, violence against women and peace through religious harmony. The organization functions mainly in Pakistan's Punjab Province in the District of Sheikhupura. Working both with major donors for funded projects and through self-initiated schemes for smaller scale community development, SANGAT hopes to expand its outreach in the coming years.

SANGAT works as a social catalyst and activist for many social issues and aligns itself with many national and international networks.
